PROCLAMATION.

FIVE HUNDRED DOLLARS REWARD!

WHEREAS, It is represented to me that on the tenth day of July, A. D. 1881, in the county of Pepin, Milton Coleman, Under Sheriff of Dunn county, and Charles Coleman, Deputy Sheriff of Pepin county, were murdered, and that the murderer or murderers are still at large; and that the ends of justice require that a reward shall be offered by me for their apprehension and conviction:

Now, therefore, I, William E. Smith, Governor of the State of Wisconsin, by virtue of the authority vested in me by law, do hereby offer a reward of five hundred dollars, to be paid upon the conviction of said murderer or murderers, to the person or persons who shall apprehend the perpetrator or perpetrators of said crime, and deliver him or them safely to the sheriff of said county, at the county seat thereof.

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Great Seal of the State to be hereunto affixed, this twelfth day of July, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and eighty-one

WILLIAM E. SMITH.

By the Governor:

HANS B. WARNER, Secretary of State.

The latest dispatches from Washington say the unfavorable symptoms in the President's condition are abating. The pulse to-day was 96 and the temperature 93. Dr. Bliss says the wound appears in every way favorable. Notwithstanding these favorable reports, the President can not be declared out of danger for several days to come, and it may require weeks to determine the result of the wound. Two encouraging signs are—an ability to get longer stretches of sleep, and the readiness with which he takes all nourishment.

Those papers that have been publishing the statement that Keene gave 5,000 francs to the poor of Paris, should make it 50,000 francs, as that is the amount he gave.

Twelve hundred dollars reward is offered for the arrest of the Williams brothers who murdered the Colemans at Durand, on Monday. The county of Pepin offers $500, the State of Wisconsin offers $500, and the county of Henderson, Illinois, offers $200.

It was Emory A. Storrs, of Chicago, who once said, "the stalwarts never bolt—they do better—they succeed." This should be printed on a postal card and mailed to every "stalwart" in the New York Legislature. This would be a pretty forcible reminder.

Colonel Ingersoll is firmly of the opinion that Guiteau can be tried on two separate counts, one for each shot fired at the President, which will give the assassin 23 years in penitentiary. This is the law in England, and is considered sound by eminent jurists in the United States.

When Dr. Cunningham, of Chicago, reported the death of a little child in North Franklin street in that city, the other day, he said: "Cause, cholera infantum, produced from filth and poisonous air from living on a hole under the sidewalk in that street." This is a practical subject for the board of health of Chicago to discuss.

It has been suggested that while many of the prominent actors of this country are off duty for a while, a monstrous dramatic entertainment should be given in New York for the benefit of Mrs. Garfield. If this was decided upon it would be the rarest dramatic entertainment ever given in this country, and the proceeds would run up to many thousands

An eastern paper says: "Among the graduates at the Yale law school the other day was Peter Doyle, ex-Secretary of State of Wisconsin, who is now forty-five years old. Being conscious of some defects in his legal education, he determined to remedy them at an age when most men would not feel like 'going to school'." It is true that Mr. Doyle graduated with honors at the Yale law school, but he won't be forty-five years old for eight years yet, as he was born in 1844.

As has been already suggested by the Gazette, there is a way out of the difficulty in New York. Should the bolting of Conkling men compel an adjournment before two senators are elected, the Republicans can still make sure of their Senators. If, after the November election, the State is found to have elected a Democratic Legislature, Governor Cornell could call an extra session, and then no Republican who is not a political privateand a traitor, would bolt a nomination.

The Conklingites want the chairman of the Republican caucus committee to call another caucus. They made two objections to the caucus which nominated Lapham and Miller, (1) that it was irregularly called; (2) that the election of these gentlemen would imperil the Republican ascendency in the next House of Representatives. The chairman refuses to call another caucus. The first one was regular in all respects, and if the election of Lapham and Miller would destroy the Republican majority in the House, the Conkling men should have been in the caucus with votes and arguments against their nomination.

Mr. William B. Strong, formerly of Janesville, whose rapid and permanent rise into railway fame, has at last been chosen President of the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe railway. Until recently, Mr. T. Jefferson Coolidge was acting, when a meeting was held in Boston on Monday, and Mr. Strong, general manager of the road, was chosen President with a handsome increase of salary. This promotion can be considered only in the most favorable light, as a testimonial of Mr. Strong, in recognition of his able management of the road the last few years, during which time it has grown to be one of the most imporiant carriers in the west. Such recognition of ability is always pleasant and appreciated. Mr. Strong's friends will have reason to congratulate him upon the honor conferred. Mr. Strong is one of the foremost railway managers in this country, and his promotion is an acknowledgment of his great ability and matchless achievements.

SUPPORTING THE COUNTY INSANE.

The county board of supervisors have decided to support the insane of the county, instead of having them cared for at the State asylum. This course has been taken for the most substantial reasons. Unless the counties take care of their own insane, the State hospitals must of necessity soon be enlarged, and this means nothing less than a tax on Rock county of $25,000. It will cost at the rate of $1,000 per capita to build additional room for the insane at the State institutions, whereas the county can build just as good rooms and have everything just as comfortable and convenient for $250 per capita, which is an economical point of considerable importance.

It costs $4.50 per week to care for the insane at the State hospitals, and probably under the present system of fronting and keeping the insane, the expense cannot be decreased, but the county can keep them, and keep them well, for $2.00 or $2.50 per week. Under the present system the county pays directly to the State $4.50 for each insane person in the hospital coming from the county, and besides pays its share of the tax for the buildings and general expenses. But under the county system of keeping the insane, the county will receive directly from the State $1.50 for each insane person in the county asylum. It has been demonstrated that the counties can support their insane for at least 50 per cent less than the State can, and beside that a very prominent gentleman in this State, who thoroughly understood the subject, is convinced that the insane can be as skillfully treated and as well cared for in Rock county, as they can in other of the State institutions.

The county board of supervisors have decided to put up a building on the poor farm in Johnstown, which will cost $6,000, and accommodate 40 patients. Twenty-seven will likely be returned from Madison, and with the number at present at Johnstown, there will be 46 to be provided for. There are already accommodations for nearly half that number, and the additional room secured by the new building will be in readiness for new patients, the number of which is gradually increasing. This movement is certainly an economic one, and one which the more heavily populated counties in the State will likely adopt.

Good Words from Druggists.

"Malt Bitters are the best 'bitters.'"
"They promote sleep and allay nervousness."
"Best Liver and Kidney medicine we sell."
"They know the 'Chills' every time."
"Consumptive people gain flesh on them."
"Malt Bitters have no rivals in this town."
"Best thing for nursing mothers we have."
"We like to recommend Malt Bitters."

Proof of Animal Life in Other Planets.

Two interesting problems which have long perplexed the scientific world appear to have been at last definitely solved by the eminent geologist, Dr. Hahn. These questions are, first, whether or not celestial bodies, other than the earth, belonging to our solar system are inhabited by animate beings, and, secondly, whether the meteoric stones from time to time cast upon the surface of this globe emanate from incandescent comets or from volcanic planets. That they at no time formed a part of the earth itself has been conclusively demonstrated.

Dr. Hahn has recently completed a series of investigations upon some of the huge meteoric stones that fell from the skies in Hungary during the summer of 1866. Thin laminæ of these mysterious bodies, subjected to examination under a powerful microscope, have been found to contain coralline and spongeous formations, and to reveal unmistakable traces of the lower forms of vegetation. All the organisms, animal and vegetable, discovered by Dr. Hahn in the delicate stone shavings he has thus dealt with indicate the condition of their parent world to be one of what is technically termed "primary formation." But the presence of water in that world is proved by the fact that the tiny petrified creatures revealed by the magic of the lens one and all belong to the so-called subaqueous classes of animals. They could not have existed in comets, at least if the assumption be correct that these are in a state of active combustion.—London Telegraph.

Popularity.

THOMAS' ECLECTRIC OIL has obtained great popularity, from its intrinsic value as a reliable medicine, in curing hoarseness, and all irritations of the throat, diseases of the chest, etc. For these it is an incomparable pulmonic.

NORMAL SCHOOL REGENTS.

MADISON, July 12—The board of normal school regents held a meeting here to-day. The proposition for an additional normal school for Milwaukee, together with a choice of five cities tendered, was referred to a special committee consisting of Regents Chandler, McAllister, Doerflinger, Weeks, and Hotchins. The recommendation of the President of Plattville, a normal school, for the establishment of a Kindergarten, was denied. Discussion was had upon the practicability of abolishing elementary certificates, and tuition fees in the training department.

VICE-PRESIDENT ARTHUR.

WASHINGTON, July 12.—Vice President Arthur called at the executive mansion this evening and had a short and pleasant interview with Mrs. Garfield. It is understood the Vice President will return to New York to-morrow.

AFFECTING GUITEAU.

WASHINGTON, July 12—Colonel Corkhill continues to receive the miscellaneous assortment of postal cards and letters sent to the assassin. Most of the communications come from the west. One letter came to-day from Chicago, written poorly, both as to penmanship and orthography.

The writer addresses Guiteau as "William," and then proceeds to assure him that there are 2,500 people in that city who have determined that he shall die no matter whether he is insane or not. They propose that he shall be executed as soon as he makes his appearance in public by being drawn joint from joint, till he has been distributed into 10,000 bits. The bloodthirsty writer signs himself "Your Vengions."

Some write in an unintelligible cipher that has no meaning whatever. Others write professing to be criminals themselves, and commiserate his his troubles. One man says, 'You know how we used to shove the queer," and pretends to recognize Guiteau as an accomplished counterfeiter. Most of these people, however, who manifest this scriptomania adopt the denunciatory style, and take the opportunity to threaten violence to the prisoner when they get a chance at him.

On the other hand some inquire what could have moved him to such a dastardly act, and a few attempt to impress him with the necessity of making his peace with his Maker, and resorting to prayer for repentance and a change of heart.

No Hospital Needed.

No palatial hospital needed for Hop Bitters patients, nor large salaried talented puffers to tell what Hop Bitters will do or cure, as they tell their own story by their certain and absolute cures at home.

THE HEATED TERM.

Twenty-Seven Deaths by Sunstroke in One Day in Cincinnati.

CINCINNATI, July 12—The heat has been excessive all day, and at night there is but little indication of cooler weather. The maximum temperature by the signal service record has been 102.2 and mean temperature 91.4. Twenty-seven deaths from sunstroke have been reported, most of them occurring on the street. No less than thirty dead bodies including some who died yesterday were at the undertakers' to-day awaiting identification by friends. The board of health will establish a temporary morgue. Coroner Rondig was himself prostrated this afternoon, but will recover. Among the dead of to-day are John Pfue, proprietor of the Price Hill Inclined Plane, and Wm. Avery, merchant. Fifty million gallons of water have been used to-day, which is more than the pumping capacity of the water works.

A STRANGE COINCIDENCE.

BLOOMINGTON, Ill., July 12—A singular coincidence is developed in the tragedy reported yesterday from Durand, Wis., in which Under Sheriff Coleman, of Pepin county, and Sheriff Coleman, of Dunn county, were shot and killed by the Williams brothers, desperado horse-thieves from Illinois. It turns out that both the Colemans and the Williamses are from this city, and both are well known here. The Colemans were born and raised here, and moved to Wisconsin in 1857, where they have since resided. Their father, in his day, was the leading blacksmith of Bloomington. The Williamses lived several years ago in Normal, adjoining Bloomington, coming the from Pope county, Ill. One of them, the blonde, and the younger of the two, clerked in the grocery of his uncle until he became involved in bad scrapes, when he fled. His brother was arrested and jailed for horse stealing. The Williamses are said to have since been members of the James and Younger gangs. About a month ago they stole horses in McDonough county, crossed the Illinois river, at Peoria, and one Sunday morning undertook to capture a church just opposite Peoria. They were pursued through McLean county, Sheriff Ator, of this city, being one of the pursuers, but they escaped.

WISCONSIN GREENBACKERS

WATERTOWN, Wis., July 12—The State Greenback convention convened here to-day with a larger delegation than ever before. About 100 delegates were present, representing the congressional districts of the State. The committee on formation reported that the convention elect a committee that shall have charge of all funds and attend to disbursements, and to raise money for the coming campaign, adopted. One hundred and twenty dollars were contributed during the session. The following ticket was nominated by acclamation: E. P. Allis, of Milwaukee, Governor; Davis Geddons, Fond du Lac, Lieutenant Governor; Wilson Hopkins, Chippewa, Secretary of State; Gerhard Lammers, Sheboygan, Treasurer; John A. Gaynor, Wood county, superintendent of public instruction; Joel Foster, Pierce county, attorney general; T. G. Brunson, Crawford, railroad commissioner; Lorenzo Merrill, Dodge county, insurance commissioner. In the evening a stirring speech was made by the Rev. G. La Mayr, ex-Congressman of Indiana, to a fair sized audience, after which the convention adjourned.

A Smooth Complexion.

Can be had by every lady who will use Parker's Ginger Tonic. For promptly regulating the liver and kidneys and purifying the blood there is nothing like it, and this is the reason why it so quickly removes pimples and gives a rosy bloom to the cheek. See notice.

THE PENSION BUREAU.

WASHINGTON, July 12.—General William W. Dudley, commissioner of pensions, has recommended the discharge of over 100 clerks and a reduction in the pay of over 60. General Dudley ascertained that the total annual appropriation subject to pay of employes was $794,070. The amount necessary to pay the force employed $931,350. Deficit $137,280. In deciding upon the changes to be made the good of the service is the great primary object sought to be obtained. There are now about 120,000 unadjudicated claims to be acted upon. There was adjudicated last year about 40,000.

THE LAWSON WILL CASE.

DELAVAN, July 12.—Judge Golder rendered his decision in the will case of Robert Lawson, deceased, sustaining the will, which divides a large estate between the Baptist and Methodist churches of Delavan. It is thought the will will be further contested.

APPLETON'S MASONIC HALL.

APPLETON, July 12.—The corner-stone of the masonic building was laid this afternoon according to masonic form. Grand Master Chapin was master of ceremonies. Oshkosh commandery of knights templar, 100 strong, were present. The procession was large. Sam Boyd, of Appleton, was orator. Senator Sawyer, State Senator Fifield, General T. S. Allen, D. G. M. Reed, and others were among the distinguished persons present. Everything passed finely.

FATAL TOY PISTOLS.

WAUKESHA, July 12.—The 6-year-old son of Mr. A. Hadfield died to-day of lock-jaw, caused from a wound in his hand by the explosion of a toy pistol on the Fourth of July.

MILWAUKEE, July 12.—Patrick Marcklar, 12 years old, injured his hand in firing a toy pistol on the 4th, and died of lockjaw this morning, after twenty-four hours' illness, in which terrible suffering was endured.

AN ASYLUM MURDER.

MONTREAL, July 12.—A terrible murder took place at Tongue Point asylum yesterday morning. Two women, named Delia Porier and Gertrude Roberts, occupied the same cell. During the night the Porier woman, who was known to be a religious monomaniac, fancied she saw a frightful dragon, and for the safety of herself and all the other inmates attacked it with a piece of board by pounding it on the head. The dragon was her companion Roberts. An inquest was held to-day.

CONFLAGRATION.

PARIS, July 12—A great fire broke out early yesterday morning in the goods of station Chemin de Fer du Midi, at Cette, and spreading with frightful rapidity, soon destroyed nearly 1,000 trucks trucks and passenger cars. The flames are not yet extinguished. Happily no lives were lost. Between two and three square miles of shed and warehouses are reported burned.

NERVOUS DEBILITY
SOLD IN A YEAR
AND SPERMATORRHŒA.
A valuable Discovery and New Departure in Medical Science, an entirely New and positively effective Remedy for the speedy and permanent Cure of Seminal Emissions and Impotency by the only true way, viz: Direct Application to the principal Seat of the Disease, acting by Absorption, and exerting its specific influence on the Seminal Vesicles, Ejaculatory Ducts, Prostate Gland, and Urethra. The use of the Remedy is attended with no pain or inconvenience, and does not interfere with the ordinary pursuits of life; it is quickly dissolved and soon absorbed, producing an immediate soothing and restorative effect upon the sexual and nervous organizations wrecked from self-abuse and excesses, stopping the drain from the system, restoring the mind to health and sound memory, removing the Dimness of Sight, Nervous Debility, Confusion of Ideas, Aversion to Society, etc., etc., and the appearance of premature old age usually accompanying this trouble, and restoring perfect Sexual Vigor, whose it has been dormant for years. This mode of treatment has stood the test in very severe cases, and is now a pronounced success. Drugs are too much prescribed in these troubles, and, as many can bear witness to, with but little if any permanent good. There is no Nonsense about this Preparation. Practical observation enables us to positively guarantee that it will give satisfaction. During the eight years that it has been in general use, we have thousands of testimonials as to its value, and it is now conceded by the Medical Profession to be the most rational means yet discovered of reaching and curing this very prevalent trouble, that is well known to be the cause of untold misery to so many, and upon whom quacks prey with their useless nostrums and big fees. The Remedy is put up in neat boxes, of three sizes. No. 1, enough to last a month, $3; No. 2, sufficient to effect a permanent cure, unless in severe cases, $5; No. 3, lasting over three months, will stop emissions and restore vigor in the worst cases, $7. Sent by mail, sealed, in plain wrappers. Full DIRECTIONS for using will accompany EACH BOX.

COOKSVILLE.

—Tobacco with some is the main crop and corn gets the go by, and weeds are rampant.

—Haying, tending corn and tobacco keeps farmers on the jump, and it is a question which demands the first attention.

—Considerable hay was secured last week in good condition, but the shower Saturday night and Sunday's rain storm, gave a regular soak to that cut on Saturday.

—As a general thing, corn is looking first rate and some pieces are now too far advanced to work with the sulky plow, while a few fields of late planting and poorly tended are so far behind that it seems hardly possible they can mature a crop.

—Miss Elva J. Dow returned from Lowell, Mass., last week, where she has been her time for the past six months perfecting herself in musical art on the piano and violin. All are glad to welcome her back to Cooksville again.

—"Ye" jotter and family took in the celebration at Stoughton, on the Fourth, where it was a new thing for that enterprising village to celebrate without gunpowder and whisky.

—Mrs. W. J. Park, of Madison, with Mrs. Alfred, are visitors at Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Robertson's.

—Mrs. Howell, of Cooperstown, N. Y., is visiting the family of J. T. Dow.

—Mr. and Mrs. Schooley, of Chicago, are visiting with friends here. Mr. S. is a commercial traveller, and has, on account of poor health, been unable to do any labor for more than a year. He is now improving, and feels much better since coming here, with hopes of a speedy recovery.

—John Lanu has a large field of winter wheat, which will be ready for the reaper in a few days. Other small pieces in this vicinity are looking well.

—Mr. Harrison Stebbins, who has been confined to his bed for some time, is now able to be about the house.

—Mr. Stebbins has tendered his resignation as postmaster at Stebbinsville, to take effect at the close of the current quarter, with the request that Mr. W. J. Stewart be appointed in his place.

—Mr. Charles Miller is building a large side-hill granery, which is so constructed that he can load or unload from the wagon without having to lift a bag full of grain. When completed it will be the most convenient of any we know of in the county.

—Mr. Florine Newboun, of Monroe county, Wisconsin, a farmer who thought it not good to be alone, called on B. S. Hoxie, Esq., with Miss Victoria Hines, of Porter, Wis., on July 3d, with the request that they be made husband and wife, which of course was done on time, and the happy pair started for their new home the next day.

—Rev. G. W. Lawrence came up from Janesville on Saturday last, but the storm of Sunday prevented service. His next appointment will be Sunday, August 7th, at 11 o'clock a. m.

Smoked Mutton Hams.

Choose fat young mutton. Rub it thoroughly with a mixture in the proportion of one part sugar to two of salt, and half an ounce of saltpeter and the same quantity of black pepper to a pound of the mixture. Place the meat in a covered vessel and turn and beat it twice a day for three consecutive days. The fourth day wipe the scum from the meat, wash it with strong vinegar, and again rub it with the mixture. The day after beat and turn it; repeat these alternate operations for ten days, being careful to remove the scum before such rubbing, and to turn the meat every time. After this it must be smoked for ten days. To be used the same as smoked venison or dried beef.

To pickle without smoking them, rub the hams with a mixture of sugar, pepper and saltpeter, allowing four ounces of the former and an ounce each of the two latter to every twelve pounds, and a pound and a quarter of salt to the same quantity. After the meat is thoroughly rubbed, cover it with the salt and turn and beat it every day as before directed. At the end of a week add a teacupful of vinegar to the brine and continue the turning and beating. After three weeks take it from the brine, wash with fair water, then with strong vinegar and hang up in a cool cellar for a week or less according to the weather. It should be soaked in cold water about an hour before boiling.

An old cook book says that hams protected by wrapping, can be kept packed in a barrel full of charcoal broken pretty small, and even claims that tainted meat can be restored. However doubtful that last statement may be, it seems quite possible that good meat could be so kept for a few days in warm weather. There is also a method of preserving meat by the use of salicylic acid, but having no experience in either of these ways I merely mention them, so there is something for you and me to find out about.—Prairie Farmer.

PERSONAL AND LITERARY.

—The reason of Jefferson Davis' trip to Canada is that he may be on British soil when his history of the Rebellion is published in London, and thus have the benefit of English copyright laws.

—Rev. William M. Baker, author of "His Majesty, Myself," and other novels, who lives in Boston, resembles the typical Southerner in his physique. He is a voluminous writer, his books now numbering more than two score. Mr. Baker is about to re-enter the pulpit in Philadelphia.

—Ralph Waldo Emerson is seventy-eight years old. It is well-known that his mind has been failing rapidly of late years. His memory is almost entirely gone. He cannot remember the names of persons, nor even the commonest words. But his old age is beautiful, and is cheered by the watchful care of a most tender and devoted daughter.

—Mr. Millais' portrait of Mr. Tennyson is described as a perfect likeness. It represents the laureate as standing in the well-known cloak, with the velvet collar and the frayed button-holes, and holding, in the one brawny hand that is visible, the time-honored black felt hat. The large soft eyes shine clear of the curiously developed upper lids and are full of thought. The tallness of the head is enforced by its framework of uncut hair and the narrow, long beard.

—A gentleman calling on a farmer observed: "Mr. Jones, your clock is not quite right, is it?" "Well, you see, sir," said Mr. Jones, "nobody don't understand much about that clock but me. When the hands of that clock stand at twelve, then it strikes two, and then I know it is twenty minutes of seven."—Boston Globe.

—Dr. Loring, the new Commissioner of Agriculture, is the son of a clergyman who lived at North Andover, Mass. The story is told that he and his brother were gaunt boys. Their father sent them one day to an adjacent cattle-show with some very fat hogs to exhibit. The boys were rather proud of the many compliments paid to the hogs, until a farmer came along and said to an acquaintance: "Mighty nice hogs those of Parson Loring's, but why don't he give his boys more to eat and his hogs less."

A Kind-Hearted Brigand.

A brigand in Thessaly has lately distinguished himself by an act of unusual kindness and good feeling. A short time ago several school children were carried off from Zagorah by a band of brigands, under the leadership of an eminent ruffian by name Balachos. Five of these children were subsequently restored to their parents on payment of a heavy ransom in each case. Three of the captives, for whose release a larger ransom was demanded, were retained. One of the three was the son of a Mr. Cassavetti, a little boy in whose fate general interest was excited, and who has regained his liberty in an unexpected manner. A Wallack, belonging to the band which had captured the boy, took a fancy to him and determined to effect his rescue; and, being left with two others of the band to guard the child, he found an opportunity for carrying out his benevolent intention. One of the brigands went to get some bread, and another fell asleep. The Wallack, taking advantage of this favorable moment, broke the needle of the gun of the bandit, and called to the child to come with him. The little captive, not unnaturally misunderstanding the summons, began to cry. This woke the brigand who was asleep; but his gun was useless, and he snapped the trigger in vain. In the meantime the Wallack managed to escape with the boy to Rissomola, whence he was taken home by some friends and an escort of soldiers. Of course Balachos is dreadfully annoyed at the affair, and if he gets hold of the Wallack intends to make an example of him.

—Longfellow has been talking with a correspondent of the Philadelphia Press about some of his poems. "I wrote the 'Hymn of the Moravian Nuns' at college," he said. "I read in a newspaper a story that the Moravian women at Bethlehem had embroidered a banner and presented it to Pulaski. The story made an impression upon my mind, and one idle day I wrote the poem. I called them Moravian Nuns, because I had gathered from something I had heard or read that they were called nuns. I suppose I should have said Moravian Sistors, but the change doesn't spoil the romance. I often felt a curiosity to go and see the people whose patriotic action furnished the theme for this poem." Longfellow said that "Evangeline" was suggested to him by a gentleman with whom he and Hawthorne were dining, and who urged the novelist to write a novel on the theme of the exiled young Arcadian girl who spent the remainder of her life searching for her lover. "I caught the thought at once," the poet said, "that it would make a striking picture if put in verse, and said, 'Hawthorne, give it to me for a poem, and promise me that you will not write about it until I have written the poem.' Hawthorne readily assented to my request, and it was agreed that I should use his friend's story for verse whenever I had the time and inclination to write it."

H. A. PATTERSON, P. M.

A STRANGE STORY.

She could not become a burden to others. She had outlived her usefulness, perhaps, but she had by no means outlived her self-respect, or her desire to be a factor, however unimportant, in the world's wide field of product.

So when her boys—there had been two, and they had become men and had taken to themselves wives—emigrated to the far Southwest and the girls—there were women now—wondered how they were to crowd any more than they were crowding, in order to spare a room for mother, who had just been burned out of house and home, and had come, first to Julia and then to Jessie, to see if she could find a home with either—when these things came to pass, the old lady, who had never before realized how old she was, began to feel aged, and weary, and very lonely, yet as never before determined to make for herself a place in the world, where by her own efforts she could live and maintain herself.

It had grieved her to see her home, with all its homely treasures, flame up and flare and fade into ashes before her eyes, as she stood alone and helpless on that fatal night. But she had consoled her bereaved heart, saying, "After all, the care of these things, my house, and garden, and cow, and chickens, prevented me from doing much for the girls; now there is an end. I will sell the cow and fowls, and replace my lost clothing, and go to Jessie and Julia. I can live by turns with them, and help them on in many ways."

Poor heart. She had been a good mother, and had done a good part by her children. The thought that she could be anything else than a help to those whom she had always helped, ah, with what loving, unselfish helpfulness, never occured to her. Yet as she stood, homeless and destitute, in her daughter's house that bright, October morning, and heard Julia's husband remark that there wasn't enough room in the house for those rightfully belonging in it, "grandma had better go up to Jessie's" the poor mother felt a strange, unnatural tremor shake her frame. The road between Julia's and Jessie's seemed twice as long as ever before.

"Did you save nothing, mother?" Jessie asked. "And how much insurance had you? To think, we never heard a word of it till ten minutes ago. Jule sent up to say she saw you coming over the hill, and as they had no room for you I'd have to manage somehow. I couldn't make out what it meant, till the young one said you'd been burned out. How soon do you suppose the insurance will rebuild for you? We can crowd up for a few weeks by letting Andrew give you his cot. He can sleep in the dining-room. Of course you'll have to be in the room with little Jim and Isabella. Did you save all your things?"

How weak she grew as she sat and listened to her daughter's half-peevish questions. She scarcely knew her own voice as she answered:

"The insurance expired last week. I neglected to renew it. The fire broke out at four this morning, and everything was gone before the neighbors heard my cries. I saved nothing but my clothes and my tin-box with my papers, and watch, and few trinkets in it. There were five gold dollars in the box. It is all the money I have now. The lot, the cow, and the chickens are all that is left to me.

"Why mother," interrupted the daughter vexedly, "how could you be so neglectful? You must be in your second childhood. All your nice bedding, and furniture, and the china! Dear me! There must have been at least a thousand dollars' worth of property destroyed."

"And I am homeless and destitute indeed," said her mother quietly, in very sad voice.

"And all through your own culpable carelessness, I declare," said Jessie.

"And what in the world you are going to do, I don't know, I'm sure. We're crowded enough, mercy knows. And I was just thinking of sending little Jim up to you for a month. The air is so much purer over where you lived, the other side of the hill, and he is so cross and troublesome. Dear me! And to think of there being no insurance. You might as well have thrown your home away, and your things, and done with it."

Not a word of sympathy or of encouragement from Julia. Reproaches from Jessie.

Were these the babies whom she had borne, and nursed, and fondled, and served, so willingly, so patiently, so gladly? Were these the daughters for whom she had toiled, and striven, and planned? Was it not all a hideous dream.

Her blood seemed turning to ice in her veins. She rose with rigid limbs and turned to the door.

"I will walk over to tell your Uncle Dick," she said. "I may not return to-day. Andrew need not give up his cot to grandma, at least not to-night. Good-by, children." And she closed the door slowly and with trembling hand, as she went out from her daughter's house, to return no more.

"There is no welcome for me in my children's homes," she said; "their bread would choke me. And oh, I love them so."

And as she walked along, gray, ashen shadows settled upon her face, and her look was as of one whose death-stroke has been felt.

Another mother might have acted differently—even felt differently. Mothers have suffered disappointment in their children, and have borne the pain in one way or another, and veiled it from all eyes; even with loving, forgiving affection endeavoring to hide it even from their own. Alas!

Perhaps they were less proud-spirited than this mother. Perhaps they were less sensitive. Perhaps they had less self-respect.

When once these mothers realize that the children for whom they have lived, and would gladly die, value them more for what they have than for what they are, battle against the unwelcome conviction as they may, the realization works its sorrowful change in their lives. Some may succeed in making the hideous specter down, and may persuade themselves, indeed, that 'twas a phantom only. The difference between these and this mother was, that she accepted the truth, and neither tried to deceive herself or others.

As she neared the home of her brother-in-law her resolve was taken. When she entered his house she was outwardly calm, and could talk of her loss and her intentions, with even tones and quiet air.

After arranging with him to dispose of her cow and chickens, she took the cars to the next town, and began to search for employment.

Mamma was visiting friends in that town at the time. Mamma is one who usually follows the leadings of her own instincts, and always regrets when she fails to do so. She was in Mrs. Ludlow's sitting-room when Mrs. Alpen applied for a position as general assistant, asking only for kind treatment and small wages.

Mrs. Ludlow had no place for her, but mamma felt assured that here was a treasure for some one, and forthwith proposed that if Mrs. Alpen would go with her to her home, two days' journey by rail, she would give her suitable employment at fair wages.

Mamma shortened her visit in order to bring Aunty Alpen home. She has remained mamma's most valuable helper ever since.

For years we knew nothing of her personal history beyond the fact that she had married children settled in distant places, from whom, at long and irregular intervals, she received letters.

One day it chanced that, as mamma read a paragraph from a newspaper, she smiled and called Aunty Alpen's attention to it.

"It is your name," said mamma. "Rowena Alpen. I wish it were your land also. It would make you independent indeed."

"It is my land," said Mrs. Alpen, quietly. "But I am independent without it."

And she burst into tears and sank into a chair at mamma's side. We left them alone—mamma and our poor friend in her grief.

It was then that she confided to mamma her story that she said was too pitifully sorrowful to be told.

She had been with us seven years. In all these years never once had her daughters invited her to their homes. They had been glad she had employment and was satisfied with her position. They had even asked her if it was convenient to have a visit from one or more of the children in their summer vacations. But they had never expressed any regret at the separation, or any desire to have her become a member of their families.

Until now.

The lot on which her home had stood had suddenly become valuable. A coal-vein ran beneath it. The mine was working. The owners of the shaft wished to purchase, and offered a price that astonished those who knew nothing of the real values. Both daughters at once remembered their filial obligations, and at once each offered a home with her own family.

"God pity me if I am unlike what a mother should be," she said. "I loved my children only for love's sake. I hoped that thus my children would love me. Love, love was all I asked or craved. Land cannot buy love nor happiness. All that I have is theirs. They shall have no temptation to become impatient for their mother's death. I will give them all now. For myself, when I can no longer work, there remains the poor-house. I will go thither."

Is her story too strangely sad to have been told? I know of other mothers no less keenly stung by that "Sharper than a serpent's tooth," filial ingratitude and neglect.

I have but lately been the confidant of a tale as strangely sad from a gray-haired mother of children in far higher social scale than Aunty Alpen's, yet not one whit above them in filial duty. I know of another mother this hour, snubbed, grudged her attic room and her poor bite and sup, and forced to do her own laundry work in her daughter's house, where rooms, and food, and servants are plenty.

Why do I tell of such shames?

Why, indeed, unless in the hope that some who have eyes to see may see, and who have ears to hear may hear and understand? For these stung hearts of sorrowing mothers are remembered by One who in the day of His power is mighty to avenge.—Mary E. C. Wyeth, in Illustrated Christian Weekly.

The Size of Molecules.

With regard to the absolute diameter of a molecule and their number in a given space, everything at present is only probable conjecture. Still it may be interesting to state the views which are held on these questions by such investigators as Sir William Thompson and the late Prof. Clerk-Maxwell; but we give these without attempting to indicate the character of the speculations on which their conclusions rest. Summing up then both the known and the unknown, we may state that the molecular weights and velocities of many substances are accurately known. It is also conjectured that collisions take place among the molecules of hydrogen at the rate of seventeen million-million-million per second, and in oxygen they are less than half that number. The diameter of the hydrogen molecule may be such that two million of them in a row would measured a millimetre. Lastly, it is conjectured that a million-million-million hydrogen molecules would weigh about four grammes; while nineteen million-million-million would be contained in a cubic centimetre. Figures like these convey no meaning to the mind, and they are introduced here only to show the character and present state of the research.—Chambers' Journal.

DR. PRICE'S REPUTATION!

Has been acquired by candid, honest dealing and years of successful practice.

My practice, not one of experiment, but founded on the laws of Nature, with years of experience and evidence to sustain it, does not tear down, make sick to make well; no harsh treatment, no trifling, no flattering. We know the cause and the remedy needed; no guess work, but knowledge gained by years of experience in the treatment of Chronic Diseases exclusively; no encouragement without a prospect. Candid in our opinions, reasonable in our charges, claim not to know everything or cure everybody, but do lay claim to reason and common sense. We invite the sick, no matter what their ailment, to call and investigate before they abandon hope, make interrogations and decide for yourselves; it will cost nothing as consultation is free. Mothers! Mothers!! Mothers!!!

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with the excruciating pain of cutting teeth? If so, go at once and get a bottle of MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately—depend upon it; there is no mistake about it. There is not a mother on earth who has ever used it, who will not tell you at once that it will regulate the bowels, and give rest to the mother, and relief and health to the child, operating like magic. It is perfectly safe to use in all cases, and pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States. Sold everywhere 25 cents a bottle.

BRIEFLETS.

—Council meeting to-night.

—Picnics and excursions are getting plenty.

—Work on Court street bridge has commenced in earnest.

—A picnic party numbering about thirty went up the river by boat yesterday afternoon, and had a jolly time. Anderson's band furnished the music for the dance at the landing.

—The Third ward reservoir east of the Court house was filled last night with 2,000 barrels of water. It took the engines over three hours to pump it full, one playing into the other. By this one can judge how long it will last when used to squelch a blaze.'

—Thomas Mahon and family desire to express their sincere thanks to the many friends, who showed such genuine sympathy during the illness and on the occasion of the death and burial of his wife, and to express their grateful appreciation of the many acts of kindness and friendliness of which he and they were the recipients

—Next Saturday evening Haverly's Mastodon minstrels are to make plenty of fun at the Opera house. It promises to be one of the richest treats of minstrelsy ever offered here, and will be worthy of a crowded house. Many new features are introduced, and the size and talent of the company are assurances of a first-class show in all respects.

—The Janesville Coaching Club, a new organization, is sending forth its invitations to join in a coaching party to Beloit Monday, July 18, at 4 o'clock p. m., the expenses for the round trip, including luncheon and dance, being $2.50. The officers of the club are Charles S. Mengel, President, B. J. McDermott, Vice President, and J. D. Holmes, Secretary and Treasurer.

—The monthly bulletin sent forth by Valentine Bros., and showing the progress of the Western School of Telegraphy, contains many facts which speak higher praise for the practical work being done, than any string of words could do, however gracefully coupled together. During the last month the school has sent forth thirty graduates, and provided each one of them with a position. The bulletin is filled up with letters, all of recent date, from graduates showing how they are getting along. When the graduates of a school say that all promises are met, and more than met, it does away with any doubt as to the worth of the training which they have received.

—It's remarkable what a run is made on a popular cigar, or rather for a popular cigar. A striking instance of this is the "Tri-Color," of which James S. Clark, in his little store opposite the postoffice, has already sold 36,000, and yet folk don't seem to be satisfied, but want more and more, and it keeps him on the sharp look-out for stock enough to supply the demand. He has surely made a hit on these nickle smokers. We're glad of it, for he deserves good luck, and it is gratifying to his many friends that he is getting some of it. It was not long ago that he started in there, his health preventing his longer following his former business, and he has successfully passed through the trying ordeal of working up a trade, and his business is now an established success, thus growing better and better. He worked hard for it, and has got it.

Mr. Riffenstein, Boston, Mass., writes: "Your Spring Blossom has cured me of dyspepsia of four (4) years standing. I have regained my normal appetite, and can sleep well, and feel like a new man. Price 50 cents, and trial bottles 10 cents. Sold by A. J. Roberts, and Sherer & Co.

THE WEATHER.

REPORTED BY PRENTICE & EVENSON, DRUGGISTS.

The thermometer at 6 o'clock last night stood at 83 degrees above; at 1 o'clock A. M. to-day at 75 degrees above; at 7 o'clock P. M., at 76 degrees above, and at 1 o'clock P. M., at 85 degrees above zero. Clear.

The indications to-day are, generally fair weather, westerly winds, stationary followed by falling barometer, and stationary or higher temperature.

"Forced by my political connections into public life, my sufferings were intensified by the comments of those who saw my face and head covered with scrofulous humor," said a gentleman recently cured by Cuticura Remedies.

Why an object of loathing and disgust to yourself and society from catarrh, when Sanford's Radical Cure, externally and internally administered, will cure every symptom of the disease. Every package is a complete treatment. Only $1.

CARE OF THE CRAZY.

The County Board Decides to Build for Their Accommodation—the Tramp Question—Furnishing the Municipal Court.

The county board of supervisors at its yesterday afternoon's session took some important action concerning the care of the insane. Mr. Greenman offered the following resolution, which was adopted:

Resolved, by the Rock county board of supervisors in view of the necessity for better facilities for the proper care of our chronic insane, that immediate action should be taken for the erection of a suitable building upon the present county farm, at a moderate cost, with reference to the present requirements of the county, and with such regard for future necessity as prudence may dictate.

Supervisor Felt presented the following resolution which was adopted:

Resolved, that the committee on public buildings be and are hereby authorized and instructed to procure plans and specifications, subject to the approval of the State Board of Charities and Reform, for the erection of a suitable building upon the county poor farm, and to let the same to the lowest responsible builder, with a capacity sufficient to accommodate forty persons, at an expense not exceeding $6,000. To construct and furnish the same as soon as possible.

On motion of Supervisor Greenman the thanks of the Board were tendered to the State Board of Charities and Reform present, for information and suggestions given in regard to caring for the chronic insane.

On motion of Supervisor Shaymaker the committee on public buildings was authorized to procure suitable furniture for the Municipal court room, and that the sum of $250 be appropriated for the payment of the same. Mr. Gardiner alone voting against it.

On motion of Mr. Gardiner the county treasurer was instructed to pay the State treasurer all moneys in his hands collected from fines, in accordance with the decision of the Supreme Court.

On motion of Mr. Brownell, the building committee was instructed to place inside blinds on the windows of the room now occupied by the Municipal court.

On motion of Mr. Brownell the committee on public buildings was instructed to devise some means of furnishing labor for persons committed for vagrancy, also suitable conveniences for working such persons while under commitment.

On motion of Mr. McIntyre, the county treasurer was authorized to borrow such a sum of money as may be necessary, not to exceed $5,000, for the purpose of paying for the erection of a suitable building on the county poor farm for the care of the chronic insane, at a rate of interest not to exceed seven per cent.

On motion of Mr. Kimball, a committee of two was appointed by the chair to act in conjunction and have coordinate jurisdiction with the committee on public buildings, in the erection of the building for the insane. The chair named Supervisors Kimball and Menzies.

On motion of Mr. Felt the building committee was empowered to build an arched doorway, or opening, between the rooms now occupied by the Municipal court, and to make any other alterations they may deem necessary.

The Board then adjourned.

PERSONAL.

—Mrs. Arthur Hayward is again in the city, at her old home.

—J. J. White and mother have arrived in the city at last, and are heartily welcomed by their many old friends.

—W. H. Ashcraft's family started for Geneva Lake this morning, to spend the summer. They will stay at Russell's.

—Frank Barnett left this morning for an extended trip to Colorado and New Mexico, in the hope of bettering his health.

—Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Hoskins are visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Hoskins, and expect to start for their western home to-morrow.

—Levi P. Bliss, and his bride, have reached Janesville, and taken rooms in Mr. S. G. Hayner's house. Mr. and Mrs. Bliss found on their arrival a number of elegant presents awaiting them, and many hearty welcomes.

—D. F. Sullivan, on Monday next, leaves the employ of F. C. Cook, with whom he has been connected for seven years past, and will at once enter upon his duties as travelling salesman for Sigler Bros., large jewelry manufacturers, at Cleveland. One of the reasons for this change is the hope of improving in health, his eyes beginning to weaken by the long and close application to watchmaking. Dan has scores upon scores of friends here, who will dislike to lose him from their midst, but if their good wishes ever are met, he will be crowned with prosperity. He is an excellent jeweler, a successful salesman, a young man of excellent habits, and altogether a right good sort of a follow, who ought to prosper, and will.

—Postoffice Inspector J. D. King is at home again after a two months trip through the far west, during which he has traveled about 1,700 miles, and much of that distance by stage coach. When he reached Chicago yesterday, some friends who met him there did not know him. He wore a full beard, and a blue shirt and a brown face, had two navy shooters strapped to his side, and he trod the pavement like a veteran. Two months made many changes. Time always does. Even half an hour made another change in "Dug," the barber first clipping and then shaving him, and a real cold biled shirt taking the place of the blue one, so that he looked near enough like himself to be recognized by his family. Everybody is glad to see him just the same.

—The Wichita Weekly Beacon speaks as follows concerning some of Janesville's good folk who moved from here to Kansas some four years ago: "We took dinner with one of the most hospitable men in Gypsum township, Mr. S. H. Reynolds. We were treated to a splendid repast, and satisfied a good appetite engendered by our ride. After dinner we passed a most pleasant hour in conversation with the family. Mrs. Reynolds is an intelligent lady, and entertained her guests in a pleasant manner, which made them feel at once 'at home.' She has two accomplished daughters, one of whom, Miss Josie, has been a teacher in the Fourth ward school of this city for the past three years. We had never met her before, but we know she had won, during that time, a splendid record as a teacher. Mr. Reynolds has a number of broad acres in a fine state of cultivation, and very promising crops are growing.

We believe that there is a large class of patent medicines whose ingredients are skillfully and conscientiously selected and compounded, and that they have been very useful in the domestic treatment of diseases. We must come to this conclusion in precisely the same way that we come to the conclusion that a man is a skillful physician—by what they accomplish, and by the testimony of those who have used them. The reputation of a patent medicine is sustained by exactly the same evidence that supports a skillful physician's reputation. Many of these medicines came out of the regular practice, and were prepared and originally prescribed by the best physicians. Very few of them, we believe, are humbugs and frauds in the consciousness or the intent of their makers. The people, who are necessarily the judges, both of doctors and of medicines, say that these medicines are now all frauds, and if human testimony is good for anything, that fact is established.—Scribner's Monthly.

DOW'S LIVER CURE!

My family have given Dow's Stomach Invigorator and Liver Cure a thorough and fair trial, and I unhesitatingly pronounce it worthy of all that is claimed for it by its inventor.

CHAS. G. WILLIAMS.

I have given Dow's Stomach Invigorator and Liver Cure a good fair trial, and pronounce it a perfectly reliable medicine for Biliousness and derangement of the Stomach. It has my full commendation. PLINY NORCROSS.

We, the undersigned, have used Dow's Liver Cure ourselves and in our families, for many of the diseases for which it is recommended, and we pronounce it the most reliable and efficient medicine yet introduced in this country, and unhesitatingly recommend it to all sufferers:
